INTRODUCTION

This bathroom range was developed to provide something alternative to the obvious, the generic. It is about essential function of product and a distilling of material, and purpose. When examining the product, they have a pure function which marries with the simple, essential aesthetic, not intruding, but rather aiding.

MATERIALS

The material palette has been pared back. All products are made from a steel alloy which inhibits rusting but allows for colour to be baked on. Where timber is used, Ash and Oak are the options finished with a matt vegan oil based sealant.

All products are available in either black or white with ash or oak timber
